

Hargreaves Lansdown case study

Overview

Hargreaves Lansdown are a household name in the consumer financial services market place. To take advantage of the up turn in interest in Self Invest Personal Pensions they need to deliver online quotations to service a wider market.

Dunstan Thomas delivered Imago: Illustration a pensions quotation platform built using C# and SQL Server. The system has been developed and deployed as a set of web services so that integration with other systems is made clearer and more straight forward.
